

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
HEADQUARTERS AIR FORCE CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL EXCELLENCE
BROOKS CITY-BASE TEXAS

2 June 2003

MEMORANDUM FOR SEE DISTRIBUTION

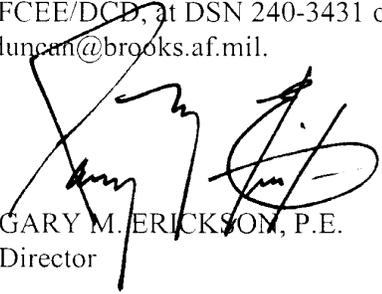

FROM: HQ AFCEE/CC
3207 Sidney Brooks
Brooks City Base TX 78235-5112

SUBJECT: 2004 USAF Design Awards Program

I proudly announce the call for entries in the 2004 United States Air Force Design Awards Program and have enclosed posters to publicize the competition. This year's competition marks the 29th anniversary of this prestigious program that fosters our goal of excellent facilities and installations to support the Air Force mission, our members, and their families.

Many Air Force projects merit recognition for their contributions to design excellence. The program guidance on the 2004 program has been issued to the Air Force Major Command Civil Engineers and establishes a submission deadline of 15 November 2003. Many MAJCOMs have a command-level competition and therefore have earlier submission deadlines. You are invited to participate in this year's competition and encouraged to submit your entry through the Major Command for which the project was designed. I encourage you to work with your Major Command to identify and submit worthy projects, whether designed by your staff or through contracts with design firms.

The 2004 program marks an important milestone as our new online submission process makes its debut. Please visit our AFCEE home page at www.afcee.brooks.af.mil to learn more about how entries may be submitted electronically. Our goal is to make the entry process easier, but with any new process there is a learning curve. Address questions concerning the Design Awards Program or the new web site to your Major Command Civil Engineer staff or to my program manager, Mr. David Duncan, HQ AFCEE/DCD, at DSN 240-3431 or commercial (210) 536-3431. You may also email him at dave.duncan@brooks.af.mil.

GARY M. ERICKSON, P.E.
Director

Attachment:
1. Posters

DISTRIBUTION: (listed on next page)